

Fr. Kennedy with the children of the Learning Center

DAYCARE NEWS

St. James in-the-Hills will be partnering with First Presbyterian Church in Hollywood to offer a new and exciting daycare program at our church.

First Presbyterian Church Hollywood Learning Centers are a star-rated, fully accredited, and VPK-approved school with a team of teachers certified in early childhood education who have over 20 years of experience and expertise.

Their classrooms are a friendly home away from home- a place where children can develop their unique gifts and talents, learn early academic skills, and enjoy growing up, knowing that they are loved. The outdoor play spaces, courtyard patios, and a nature playground invite children to enjoy physical activity, promoting health and physical development.

First Presbyterian Church Learning Centers, love working with parents and families. Together they build a strong foundation that helps children grow up to become happy and productive adults. This foundation is based on solid academic skills, such as early literacy, pre-math, and science knowledge. They also focus on character development to help children learning social skills, compassion toward others, and skills to express faith and emotions in healthy and appropriate ways.

We see this as a match made in heaven.
